Recruiting of Naval Band.
Editor: Dear Sir: The following telegram received this date, from the bureau of navigation is quoted for your information:

The bureau desires this district to enlist a complete band of 32 pieces, to be transferred to the U. S. S. Pittsburgh at navy yard, Portsmouth, N. H. This ship is going to sail for indefinite cruise to European waters, and the following musicians are wanted immediately: One band master, four first musicians, 15 second-class musicians, and 12 musicians, third-class. These men, if enlisted, will be sent to the navy recruiting station, East 23d street, New York City. The band master will be kept on recruiting duty at Burlington, Vt., until the complete band is enlisted. I. T. Bobbett.

THE CHANCE IN THE ARMY.

Volunteers Can Have Their Choice of Four or Five Branches.

Vermont young men, both those who have had army service and those who have not, have the opportunity offered them of enlisting in Uncle Sam's big new army with all the advantages which the "University in Khaki" will offer, and still be near their friends and relatives during a part, and possibly their entire period of enlistment. They may do this by enlisting now at Fort Ethan Allen and they can have their choice of four or five excellent branches of the service, including the infantry, quartermaster corps, medical department, signal corps, and motor transport corps.

Fort Ethan Allen is one of the finest army posts in the entire country and the vacancies in the service are now rapidly filling up with a class of young men who are being largely recruited from Vermont. Some of them have seen one or more years of service while others are going into the army for the first time, impressed by the opportunity of securing educational and training advantages which are to form such a big feature of the new army, and all under the healthful and broadening conditions of army life.

Great opportunities are offered men who enlist now to rapidly rise to non-commissioned rank with the greater advantages and increased pay which the non-commissioned officer receives. The new army is just now in the process of organization and men, either with or without service, who enlist now will be in line for rapid promotion if they make good. The pay of $30 per month for a private and corresponding increases for other grades established during the war will almost certainly be continued and when it is considered that the soldier has nothing to pay out for either board or clothes, the pay of the soldier compares very favorably with that of other employment.

In the new army opportunity will be afforded every soldier to secure the equivalent of a good common school education as well as opportunity for training in trades and specialized branches. Vermont young men who desire to enlist in the new army and save near their homes should apply to the recruiting officer at Fort Ethan Allen.
